

(LCN Connections Issue 3 - June 2012)

Intuitive Medicine

by Laurin Bellg

Dr Laurin Bellg is a Critical Care physician based at the Appleton Medical Center in Wisconsin, and a member of the TMI LCN Leadership Council. Recently, John Kortum's global video documentary series the IMPACT (Integrative Medical Practice and Cognitive Techniques) project, visited her to highlight her intuitive applications in the Intensive Care Unit. Laurin tells John about a strong overwhelming sense that a woman she was seeing for an unrelated issue had ovarian cancer. Subsequent tests revealed that the lady did in fact have ovarian cancer. There were no obvious physical signs of the ovarian cancer other than Laurin's strong intuitive feeling.

“Using intuition in a medical setting is something I was unprepared for.”

This particular YouTube is no longer available but you can find several of her lectures and conversations at:

https://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=dr+laurin+bellg+youtube